All Families Surrogacy Says 'Bon Voyage' to Three Staff Surrogate Babies

BEAVERTON, OR – January 9, 2016 – All Families Surrogacy celebrated the departure home of three healthy surrogate babies birthed by AFS staff members in the month of December. The majority of AFS staff are experienced surrogates, giving the agency a unique, personal perspective regarding the qualifications and needs of surrogates.

Early December, AFS welcomed twins, one boy and one girl, to the world. Their surrogate, Angela, is also the Surrogate Case Manager at AFS. "I'm so happy to see the babies are healthy and thriving," she said after their arrival.

At the end of the month, AFS Surrogate Intake Coordinator Erin delivered a baby girl to the delight of her proud fathers. "Surrogacy has been an amazing experience," she said, "I can't even really put it into words."

The three babies spent some time in Oregon over the holidays and into the New Year before returning home with their parents early January. While the departure can be bittersweet for all involved, the new families will remain in touch with the AFS surrogates and community.
